'Save our youth centre'

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedia.co.uk

A CAMPAIGN to save the town's youth centre is to be launched to ensure the service is retained in Bridport.

Bridport town councillors are sending out the message to 'save our youth centre' leading to a trust being set up to manage the service.

Residents are being urged to respond to Dorset County Council's consultation to voice how important the service is after the county council announced its proposals to stop funding to its 22 youth centres.

Cllr Sarah Williams, leader of the council, said: "I think it is very important for us to save our youth centre. It is a very important youth service in this town.

"The youth club doesn't just do youth work – it is a real hub for lots of community groups in this town.

"I would ask that we start a campaign to save our youth club because it is so important to Bridport.

"I would ask to look at our finances and budget to see what we can maybe throw into the mix and help get this started."

Dorset County Council is reducing its youth service budget to £1million from £2.2million and directing the money to youth workers working only in schools, rather than being based at centres.

Cllr Kelvin Clayton said: "Having youth workers based in schools is not where they are needed out of school hours, a lot of young people need a place of sanctuary, somewhere to go out of school."

Cllr Dave Rickard said that one of the problems with schools is that they are busy trying to meet targets and get exam results that making them do any more is a "nightmare".

He said: "I have no problem with social workers going into schools if they feel they can do their job, and there probably are some areas that they could, but obviously all schools should have a mentoring programme within their curriculum to actually deal with most of the problems – I think it is unbelievably naive. We should be moving forwards, not backwards."

In the proposals due for consultation, the county council will stop all funding to its 22 youth centres, with £200,000 allocated to support communities.

Cllr Ros Kayes said: "It is absolute nonsense, in this day in age it is very difficult when you are going to bid for some money and to have groups competing against each other for a tiny amount of cash is heinous.

"I would urge all of you and anybody you know who cares about the youth centre to respond to this consultation, firstly by saying they have got the balance wrong, that we don't need £1million to go towards youth workers situated in schools.

"More needs to be for supporting community groups who can then employ some of the youth workers to do youth work.

"We have agreed to set up a trust, we are looking for interested people in the town who have experience and the know how.

"What we really want to do is keep that resource with all the activities that are going on there and more, and to see it sustained in the future."

Looking forward to spring

■ HUNDREDS of new daffodil bulbs have been planted to brighten up West Bay in the spring.

Members of the West Bay Community Forum (WBCF) ordered sacks of the bulbs, which were then planted by two gardeners – Laura and May, pictured – from West Dorset District Council's parks department earlier this month, at the welcome sign by the old pinch point.

Some of the bulbs will also be planted in the railway station garden by members of the forum.

This is part of the WBCF initiative to make West Bay more welcoming to visitors and residents.

The bulbs were sponsored jointly by the Haddon House Hotel, Park Dean Holiday Park and the forum.

The WBCF has also just received 30 shrub hedging plants from the Woodland Trust which they hope to place soon

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

KAMILA Davies is a 13-year-old Wey Valley School student with a passion for modelling and pageants.

She moved to Sutton Poyntz, Dorset, from California last year with her mum Melanie and has already secured Dorset pageant titles.

Kamila is currently preparing to represent Dorset at the Junior Miss Galaxy United Kingdom pageant in February next year with hopes of winning and competing for the world galaxy title.

● TELL us a bit more about the competition...

I am so proud to have been selected to represent Dorset as Miss Junior Galaxy; I was selected from hundreds of applicants. I am really looking forward to the grand UK final, which is a three-day competition starting on February 5th in Chorley, Lancashire. There are about 50 other contestants hoping to win this national title.

I am working hard to complete the required 10 charity engagements prior to the competition, I am on number six and I need another four by January. If I win the title, I will represent not only Dorset but the entire United Kingdom to compete for the world galaxy title in Florida, USA, in August 2016.

● WHICH charities have you helped?

I have volunteered my time collecting donations and supporting Taylors Animal Rehoming Centre at Kingston Maurward and have collected six bags of my clothes and shoes to donate to the Children's Chance charity in Pentridge.

I have also been helping out at the Weymouth PAWS charity but I am eager to help out at all local events and charities so please contact me at melanie.davies7@btinternet.com

● WHAT other pageants have you taken part in?

I am the current Miss Earth Teen Dorset where I competed in Birmingham in August in the grand finals and won the Face of the World international modelling competition. I also came fifth out of 77 contestants in Miss California Teen USA last year.

● HOW long have you been doing it for?

I have been modelling and acting since I was eight years old and already have numerous movies, commercials and modelling assignments. I am represented by London BMA Models.

● WHAT will it mean to you to win this upcoming competition?

I hope to win Miss Junior Galaxy United Kingdom as this will help me build my international model portfolio, which is my ultimate ambition. I very much hope to receive more Dorset support and I strive to win and bring this amazing international title home to Dorset.

● WHAT do you like to do in your spare time?

My hobbies include horse riding, walking my Doberman dog and hanging out with friends.

Tributes paid to church elder John

THE family of a Bridport Christian Fellowship leading elder have paid tribute to an "irreplaceable" father and husband.

John Gordon, 60, from Stratton, near Dorchester, was hit by a white Mini Cooper, being driven by a 21-year-old Yeovil man, whilst out running at around 10.20pm on Tuesday, November 17th.

The incident happened 100 metres east of the junction to Bradford Peverell on the A37.

His wife Theresa Gordon paid tribute to her husband, who was also a lecturer at Yeovil College.

She said: "My son Alex and I would like to thank everyone for their genuine support and care shown to us after the tragic road accident, in which our dear husband and father John Gordon died.

"Thank you to the emergency services, police and people who stopped to help.

"Also thank you to the community at large in Stratton and Dorchester, and members of our church, Bridport Christian Fellowship.

"John was an amazing man of God, who trusted in and loved the Lord Jesus. He is safe in the Lord's hands now.

"We are so sad to lose him, we love him, he is irreplaceable."

His son Alex describe his dad as an "inspiration".

He said: "My dad was more than I could ask for. He gave me everything I need and helped me with my future at university.

"Every so often we would both watch Macclesfield play football, and he supported them for years and we both loved getting involved with the atmosphere there.

"He has been an inspiration to so many people through both teaching at college and at church.

"He was the most honest and calm man I have ever met.

"He died doing the sport he enjoyed doing most, which was running.

"Thank you dad for giving mum and I the happiest memories, and your uniqueness has inspired me to be myself."

Members of Bridport Christian Fellowship have also paid tribute to Mr Gordon.

A spokesperson said: "John was a leading elder of the church and much loved husband, father, friend and colleague.

"He will be missed not only by our fellowship but by all the churches he spoke and ministered at and the many lives he touched with words of knowledge and prophecy.

"Please pray at this time for Theresa and Alex."

Mr Gordon's funeral will take place on Thursday, December 3rd at 11.30am in Bridport United Church, East Street.

There will be a gathering afterwards at Bridport Christian Fellowship, King's Lane.

Officers are renewing their appeal for witnesses and anyone who may have seen the collision should contact police constable Fern Graham, in confidence, on 101 quoting incident number 17:437.

Alternatively call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111 where mobile phone tariffs may apply.

Call for planners to listen to new ideas

A HOUSING developer looking to build retirement homes in the centre of Bridport is calling on planners to listen to their new idead.

Churchill Retirement Living's application to demolish the old Bridport Magistrates' Court and replace it with retirement flats was refused by West Dorset District Council earlier this year.

They have since submitted a revised plan for 22 one and two bedroom flats for those aged over 60, at the site in Mountfield, Rax Lane.

According to the housing developers, the second application responds to concerns, which led to the refusal of the original application.

Andrew Burgess, planning director of Churchill Retirement Living, said: "As a developer we take our responsibilities to the local community very seriously.

"We have spent considerable time and money listening to the local community and revising our plans for this site. The overall size of the building has been reduced and we have taken steps to protect the living conditions of existing residents in the area.

"By allowing us to build what will be quality, well designed apartments, the anti social behaviour that currently takes place at the derelict site will also be wiped out."

Churchill Retirement Living have outlined advantages to the development, such as the owners will be shopping locally and supporting the economy of the town and people downsizing will release currently under-occupied family housing back onto the market.

Bridport Town Council was unable to make a recommendation on the revised proposals as the authority has a financial interest in the proposals through owning the access road to the site.

However in the council's comment, it stated that concerns for residents, similar to those voiced to the earlier application, had been raised regarding the height of the development.

The County Highway Authority had no objection, subject to the parking and turning areas being constructed before residents move in.

However, an advisor for Dorset Police raised concerns over the small amount of car parking spaces and possible thefts at the development.

Debbie Oldfield, a crime prevention and design advisor for Dorset Police, said: "There only appears to be seven spaces for 23 flats, which I do not feel is adequate for this development especially as it is aimed at independent retired people. Lack of parking can cause issues between the residents.

"I also have concerns in relation to the buggy park and bin store which is situated at the front of the property.

"Unfortunately I cannot see from the plans if they are going to have lockable doors. If they are left open then this will leave the buggies open to theft and may attract unwanted visitors."

Those wishing to comment on the proposals have until Thursday, December 3rd and the planning application can be found at www.dorsetforyou.com

Eva's art inspires Bridport to recycle

A BRIDPORT schoolgirl has officially opened the town's new waste management centre where her recycling-inspired artwork will be displayed for all to see.

Eva Harp, a nine-year-old St Mary's Primary School pupil, won a schools competition run by Dorset Waste Partnership (DWP) to create a piece of art to welcome visitors to the recycling facility at Broomhills.

Bridport artist Flora Jamieson – who visited local schools to run workshops for children using recycled materials – was tasked with choosing a winning picture.

She picked Eva's design as the winner out of 70 entries from local schoolchildren.

She said: "The brilliant standard of entries showed how passionate children are about protecting our planet and made picking a winner very hard.

"Eva's drawing stood out as it combines a positive message about recycling with some bold and beautiful images."

Her picture urges householders to recycle more and help "keep the world clean and green".

Eva was invited to unveil her mural and cut the ribbon alongside Mayor of Bridport, Councillor Sandra Brown, local councillors, and staff from DWP and its contractors, at the official opening ceremony on November 18th.

The facility opened its gates in October, ending a 22-year wait for a new site.

Karyn Punchard, interim director of the DWP, said: "Recycling is all about preserving our world's resources for future generations, so we really want to involve local schools in creating something special for the site.

"The local community now has a modern, accessible facility where they can recycle more, seven days a week.

"It has also enabled us to complete the countrywide roll-out of the new, improved Recycle for Dorset collection service in the area."

Vearse Farm: you can still say 'no'

I WISH to thank both David Tett and Lewis Gerolmou (last week's View Letters) on alerting local residents to the threat of severe traffic congestion and increased flooding risk to Bridport, likely to be directly caused by the massive development proposed at Vearse Farm.

I think we must appreciate how Bridport is one of the few market towns left that has not yet suffered from over-development and the detrimental impacts caused by poor planning.

All the more surprising then that on the front page we have a friend and associate of the owner of Vearse Farm, blatantly instructing people to accept 'it's happening and start looking at the positives'.

Well, we should certainly not suspect that 'Future Bridport' is actually no more than a vehicle for the landowner, pitched to convince us that local young families will now be able to access affordable homes.

Anyone would sign up for that but it is completely appalling that the developer is not able to guarantee any homes for local families, nor any fixed amount of affordable homes as it stands.

Let's be clear; Future Bridport represents entirely the interests of developers and a landowner who stands to see his property increase in value by something estimated to be in the region of £100 million, just with a rubber stamp.

Yes, Mr Ian Harvey, we see the positives now.

I do agree that Vearse Farm will be developed, but according to questionnaires, most people are very concerned that the scale is completely excessive. The Bridport Area Neighbourhood Plan is the only remaining opportunity for local residents to influence how local development might be manifested in our area.

If you are concerned about this development, by far the largest ever to be proposed locally, then according to the Localism Act 2012, you are still entitled to say so.

ANDREW LEPPARD,
Bridport

My views and Future Bridport's... not those of the Neighbourhood Plan group!

AS IT was mentioned last week that I am a member of the steering group for the Neighbourhood Plan in the front page article 'Missed opportunity for affordable homes' (Wednesday, November 25th), I have been asked to point out publicly that the views expressed are my personal and Future Bridport's, and are not the views of the Neighbourhood Plan steering group.

The working parties of the Neighbourhood Plan are collating data towards finding out the exact housing and infrastructure needs for our area.

We are all volunteers with a wide range of views and opinions.

It is agreed that our personal opinions are not allowed to influence this process.

Domestic abuse intervention training courses

THE team at Domestic Abuse Intervention Training (DAIT) will be delivering courses in Bridport from January next year.

Through funding from Synergy Housing (who own and manage properties), the office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Dorset, and Dorset Domestic Abuse Welfare committee, the group will run 'freedom programme and 'recovery toolkit' courses in the town.

The freedom programme is a 10-week course, which runs for two hours once a week.

It allows women who are either in an abusive relationship or have left an abusive relationship to consider what has happened and help women identify abusive behaviour.

The recovery toolkit course is a trauma focused cognitive behavioural therapy programme, running over 12 weeks, based on guidelines by the National Institute for Clinical Excellence for treating post traumatic stress disorder type two, often experienced by victims.

This is suitable for men and women who are not currently in an abusive relationship and there is an initial interview prior to the course starting to ensure it is right for the participant.

To find out more, contact course facilitators Pauline Collier and Jo Keane on 07747 705916 or 07826 077525 or email dait@talktalk.net

Live reindeers – Cupid and Comet – will be visiting again with their snow queen for a chance to get close to them and have a picture taken, and Santa's grotto will be outside the arts centre where Santa will give a free gift to each child.

There will be live music throughout the afternoon and evening in Bucky Doo Square and outside the Ropemakers pub and Bull Hotel.

The town hall and arts centre will be home to over 70 arts, crafts and charity stalls with over 40 trade stalls lining West Street, East Street and South Street along with the farmers' market, local food producers and a wide choice of street food.

Children will be able to have a go on fairground rides and Bridport United Church in East Street will be open for the annual Christmas tree festival.

Mulled wine, mince pies and Christmas music will be offered in the Electric Palace foyer and Bridport Museum along with other local businesses.

Alongside the free evening, which takes place on Wednesday, December 9th from 4pm to 8.30pm, members of the Bridport Christmas Cheer committee are also holding a series of competitions.

'Twelve Days of Christmas', which runs until December 9th, includes town centre shops displaying a picture depicting one of the 12 days of Christmas and shoppers have to correctly name the 12 shops to be in with a chance of winning book vouchers.

Businesses are also being encouraged to take part in the window competition, which has a theme of Christmas reindeer, and judging will take place from December 5th to 9th.

The group have also launched a mince pie competition, which will be judged by Ross and Claire of Sausage and Pear, and the bakers of the best mince pies will receive prizes including a £50 voucher from Framptons of Bridport butchers.

More information about the competitions and entry forms can be found at www.bridportchristmascheer.co.uk

Free car seat safety check

BABYGEAR in Bridport are offering free safety checks on children's car seats this week.

The group recently carried out a survey on the safety of car seats, finding all weresuitable for the car but 80 per cent were either too loose or parents had not adjusted the harness properly to accommodate the growth of their child.

These were all rectified immediately at no cost to parents.

New regulations introduced last year aim to improve the safety of car seats and these will come into effect over the next few years, to include recommendations that babies stay in a rearward facing car seat until they are 15-months-old.

Babygear are happy to check any car seat from birth to 12-years-old from 2pm to 5pm until Saturday (December 5th) and there will be no charge for the check that will take approximately 10 minutes.

Babygear is situated at The Old School on Gundry Lane.

New bus timetables

THE revised bus and train timetables compiled by members of the Western Area Transport Action Group (WATAG) will be available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on Monday, December 7th.

It includes bus timetables for the X51 and X53 over the winter period along with rail changes at Axminster and Dorchester and amended minor issues.

Ben is country's top apprentice decorator

A TALENTED apprentice from Bridport has secured a prestigious national title for apprentice painter and decorators starting out in the profession.

Ben Deer was named Crown Trade Apprentice Decorator of the Year at an industry event last week at the NEC in Birmingham, in front of over 100,000 visitors.

The 22-year-old beat off stiff competition from some of the best young talent in the country to land the £1,000 first prize at The Skills Show.

And the Bournemouth and Poole College student, who works at the family business JW Deer, run by his dad James, says winning the contest is the perfect start to his career.

He said: "The Crown Trade Apprentice Decorator of the Year competition is a real showcase for the industry, so to win the title is a huge feather in my cap.

"It is a fantastic boost to my confidence and something that will stand me in good stead throughout my career.

"My ambition is to set up my own business in Australia one day, and this is a massive step in the right direction."

The Crown Trade sponsored competition could be a springboard to even greater things for Mr Deer, as it is used to talent spot decorators with the potential to compete at the Worldskills event, the biggest vocational education and skills excellence event in the world.

Mr Deer was one of 12 apprentices who came through regional heats across the UK to compete.

They were challenged to plan and paint a complex rugby ball stencil design, in tribute to the 2015 Rugby World Cup, against the clock.

Mr Deer added: "It was difficult as we had to work to very detailed skill drawings and, because that is where most of the marks are, it had to be perfect.

"I was nervous as there was a big crowd and although it went well, I couldn't believe it when I found out I had won."

The Skills Show is a training and careers event featuring more than 50 trade-based competitions in which the 'best of the best' in each sector battle it out for the national title.

Kevin O'Donnell, product trainer and competition manager at Crown Paints and Apprentice Decorator of the Year coach, said: "This year's final posed a true test of skills, attention to detail, time management and ability to work under pressure.

"It was a complex project which required a great deal of skill and the standard on show was unbelievable.

"But Ben's expertise shone through in the end. He showed a tremendous amount of talent and ability and was a worthy winner."

The annual tournament, sponsored by Crown Trade for the last 36 years, supports training and education for the next generation of industry professionals.

Debbie Orr, marketing manager for Crown Paints, said: "As a business, we do all we can to encourage the next generation to hone their skills to the highest level.

"This competition is an example of that approach as it encourages young people to strive for excellence in their craft and reach the highest professional standards, especially as the Crown Trade apprentice decorator competition acts as a springboard to the ultimate test of professionalism Worldskills.

"Every competitor in the final showed just how well they have mastered the skills and techniques required and illustrated that the painting and decorating industry has a very bright future."

Coward's spirit shows through

THEATRE REVIEW by Stuart Broom
ENCORE THEATRE CLUB
'Blithe Spirit' at Bridport Arts Centre

THE Encore Theatre Club brought Noel Coward's 1941 comedy 'Blithe Spirit' to life with a sparkling performance at the Bridport Arts Centre last Thursday.

Written to raise the spirits of the British who were suffering severe casualties from German bombing at the time, this performance did just that for the audience, with great visual effects to boot.

The story revolves around novelist Charles Condomine who, looking to research his new book, invites an eccentric medium Madame Arcati – who he believes to be a fraud – to dinner, in the hope of extracting some inside information to use.

Instead it leads to the visit of his ghostly first wife Elvira who torments him and his second wife Ruth, who soon joins Elvira as a spirit following her death in a car accident.

The chaos that ensues is finally resolved by the genuine Madame Arcati who in desperation hypnotises the maid Edith.

The plan works as unknowingly Edith has been the conduit for the ghostly apparitions and they return to the other side.

As Charles leaves the house for pastures new, the unseen ghosts show their frustration by trashing the room.

Charles (John Pownall) and Ruth (Thea Martin) set the scene at the beginning in a delightful pre-dinner discussion, their diction and manner immediately setting you back to the era of upper class domesticity.

The less subtle comedic interludes are provided by Edith (Rebecca Hilton) the new maid who is being taught to slow down by her employers in her new vocation following time in the navy.

A treat

Rebecca's efforts at slowing down portrayed by long, loping slow steps as she passes the living room were a treat.

The Condomines are joined for dinner by their delightful neighbours, local doctor Dr Bradman (Declan Duffy) and his wife (Melanie Draper), both non-believers in mediums, who have trouble holding their tongues with acerbic comments when speaking with Madame Arcati.

From the moment she swept on stage in her lavish, bright outfit, Madame Arcati, played by Sandra Brown, dominated the proceedings. Her obsession for following procedure, and later for cucumber sandwiches, was a role just made for the town's first lady as she tries to connect with the dead.

She also produced one of the funniest lines when having been told by Ruth that Elvira had 'passed over', Madame Arcati replied: "Aha! That means she must have been on the waiting list otherwise she would have got beyond the materialisation stage by now. She must have marked herself down for a return visit..."

There was nothing ghostly about Louisa Hardy's role as Elvira, as she taunted her husband about her unfaithfulness during their marriage for which Charles retaliated citing his string of affairs, nor Ruth, when she was arrived on the other side following the car accident.

This led to both ghosts now able to converse with each other, trying to score points off each other.

Each and every member of the cast played their part to the full in an excellent production which I thoroughly enjoyed.

This year the club's usual director Miles Bell stood down to assist Jacqui Wood who had shown an interest in taking the role, and she brought all her expertise and experience as an actor to her first production which paid off handsomely with a slick, absorbing show.

As with all productions it is not only the people out front who should receive all the plaudits, as there are a myriad of people behind the scenes that have added to the enjoyment, none more so than the set builders, Geoff Fry and John Seogalutze.

Although only a single scene, the living room, the detail and standard was second to none.

I understand that the piano was hand built as a full size one would have taken too much room.

Beside the quality of the build, there were several moving parts required such as the main door and patio doors through which unseen ghosts went in and out.

However the final moments as Elvira and Ruth showed their anger by trashing the room – with books falling off shelves, the gramophone opening and slamming several times and pictures on walls and vases smashing – was superb, and a wonderful finale to a great evening.

How lucky we are in Bridport to have such talented people as The Encore Club and The Bridport Musical Theatre Company.

Young photographers show their take on the world by View From reporter and Rotary Young Photographer competition judge Stuart Broom

YOUNGSTERS who took part in the Rotary Young Photographer competition certainly gave a fascinating take on this year's theme 'Our World is Beautiful'

Some students ignored the obvious positives, and instead highlighting the negative aspect of the world with an array of photos that was a little different than in past years.

The senior entries particularly – most students taking their AS exams this year – made use of double exposure and combining both colour and black and white images to enforce their thoughts.

The regional round of the competition, which was open to students from the Beaminster School and the Sir John Colfox Academy (TSJCA), is part of the Rotary International's Youth Committee programme to find the best young photographers in Britain and Ireland and was once again organised by the the Rotary Club of Brit Valley

Their aim is to encourage children aged seven to 17 to experiment with photography and using either digital or traditional methods of photography, show interpretation of a given topic and express their ideas through the medium of photography.

The regional round attracted 27 senior and three intermediate entries, this year split roughly equally between the two schools, and once again proved a very difficult job for the judges.

Each student had to produce a portfolio of three photos they thought depicted the theme, along with a 50 word resume of what inspired their photo selection.

I was once again asked to help judge the entries along with Andrew Gillett, a professional photographer from Dorchester.

Andrew's expertise and experience was invaluable particularly with regards to judging the technical merit and imaginative interpretation, and my thoughts, as a relative layman with regards to photography, gave a good balance in deciding the winners on content and conformity.

It happened that Andrew and I independently agreed on the first two in the senior section (aged 14-17).

So close to call, we debated for sometime before choosing Alice Thomas' entry the winner.

The TSJCA student's three photos showed views of local beauty spots in colour, over printed with three vices – smoking, drinking and gambling in black and white – to show the alternative side of this 'beautiful world'.

Runner-up Toby Brookes from Beaminster followed a similar vein describing his three images of as 'highlighting what affect we are having to our once beautiful world, with the negative aspects such as poverty, extinction and global warming'.

Rosie Hancock's more traditional photos of her grandmother was adjudged third.

The three entries in the intermediate section (aged 11-13) were also more traditional, but none the less striking.

Winner Katy Palmer's three photos were inspired by colourful elements of nature which she finds beautiful, whilst fellow Beaminster students, runner-up Imi Neylan and Polly Martin (third) had similar themes.

Organiser Phil Jones welcomed everyone and congratulated not only the entrants for their wonderful efforts, but also thanked Beaminster School's Head of Photography Paul Haigh for all his hard work in tutoring the students and organising the event.

Judge Andrew Gillett gave a brief resume of each entrant's efforts, not only highlighting the high points but also offering constructive advice on how to improve their entries in the future which was well received by the pupils.

In addressing the audience of students, family and friends he said he was impressed by the vitality and personal styles on show this year, something they should continue if they were to go on and work in the industry.

The certificates and prizes of Photoshop tokens for the six winners were presented by RCBV president John Clegg who commended all the entrants on their hard work, and thanked the parents for their support as well.

The winning entrants work will now go forward to the district final to be held in Weymouth on February 6th.

Artists enjoy festive get-together

IT WAS standing room only last Thursday when over 60 members and guests attended Bridport Art Society's last meeting of the year.

Attendees enjoyed mulled wine, mince pies and a fantastic demonstration by the extremely talented artist Lynda Kettle, who after a long career in Birmingham, has now moved to the West Country.

Lynda has painted for many years in pastel and watercolour creating pictures which show a dramatic flair and exciting use of colour.

Starting with just a few white and purple lines of pastel on a sheet of paper, she worked swiftly to transforme this semi blank canvas into an autumn tree scene depicting light, strong use of colour and depth.

She also entertained everybody with her amusing stories of life at the BBC where she was a regular set designer at the Pebble Mill studio in Birmingham and this theatrical skill is clearly evident in her work.

She also offered advice on the use of materials and presentation of work.

Bridport Art Society's next meeting will be on Thursday, January 28th at 7.30pm in the St John Ambulance Hall in Rax Lane, Bridport when local artist Michael Chappell will view and appraise members' paintings.

New members are always welcome or you are invited to go along as a guest to see what they get up to!

Crime report

DORSET Police are appealing for witnesses and anyone with information to call them on 101 quoting the relevant crime number.

A walker discovered a badly injured sheep lying behind a stonewall at the Freshwater end of Southover in Burton Bradstock on Friday, November 27th around 9am.

It had sustained deep injuries exposing tendons and required the attention of a vet. It is thought by the farmer that a dog was responsible for the injuries.

Police are appealing for anyone walking the Southover to Freshwater footpath around the time who may have seen the incident to call 101 and ask for Officer 2711 PC Gauden quoting crime number 55150136769.

A male from Charmouth and another from Lyme Regis have been arrested following the theft of a green Land Rover Defender from a building site in Chideock on the afternoon of Tuesday, November 24th.

The vehicle, with a registration plate prefix of P, was taken whilst workers were on site.

A wallet and personal belongings were in the vehicle at the time of the theft. Crime number 55150135017.

Neighbourhood Policing Team officers are warning residents to be extra vigilant on the run up to Christmas following an attempt to make a resident purchase a gift voucher to give a courier in exchange for a cheque refund.

An elderly West Dorset resident received a telephone call from a male purporting to be from the Department of Claims and Advisory Group.

He stated that the householder was owed around £3,000 and that a courier was on the way to deliver a cheque.

To enable the cheque to be released to the householder, a £150 gift voucher from one of three local stores suggested by the male, should be purchased and handed to the courier. Fortunately this victim did not comply with the scammer's request.

Dorset Police are reminding people to never give out bank details, or other personal details, over the phone.

Police are encouraging local charities to ensure that adequate security is in place to deter thefts like the two that have been reported in Beaminster and Bridport recently.

The first occurred over the weekend of November 21st and 22nd at a charity shop in West Street, Bridport, where thieves gained access through a rear door.

Once inside an untidy search of the premises ensued, damage was caused to the safe and a quantity of cash was stolen.

In the second incident, between 5.15pm on Friday, November 27th and 8.45am the following morning, thieves entered a charity shop in Hogshill Street, Beaminster, after forcing entry by smashing a pane of glass in a rear door.

The store's float as stolen along with a quantity of jewellery and possibly some electrical items.

Anyone with information should call 101 quoting crime number 55150137432 for the Beaminster crime and 55150133989 for the Bridport crime.

West Bay Christmas tree

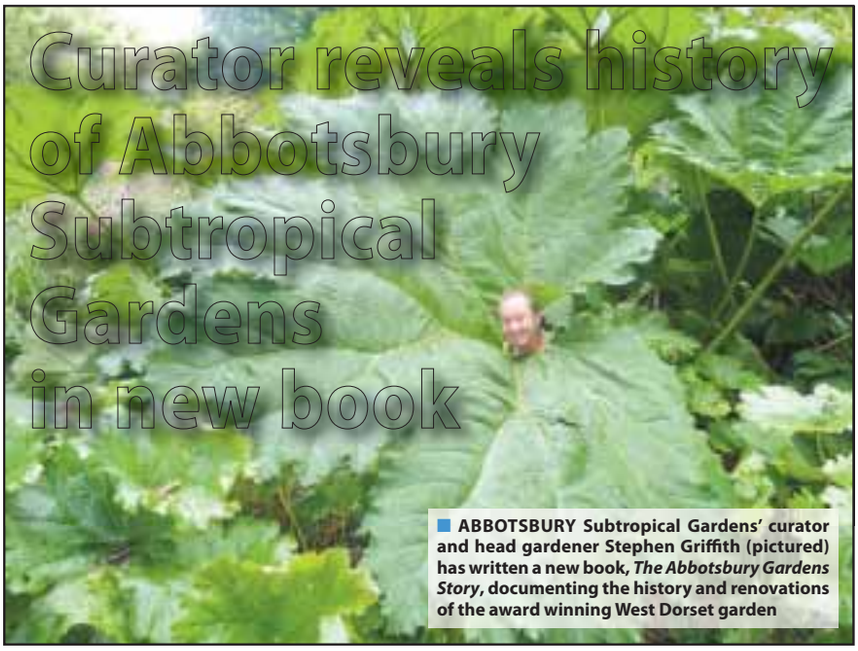
There will also be a visit from Harbourside Carnival Club's Santa on his sleigh and a free raffle prize for children.

The event, which is run in association with Bridport Carnival Committee, starts at 3pm and the lighting up ceremony will take place at 4.30pm.

Curator reveals history of Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens in new book



ABBOTSBURY Subtropical Gardens' curator and head gardener Stephen Griffith (pictured) has written a new book, The Abbotsbury Gardens Story, documenting the history and renovations of the award winning West Dorset garden

THE history of an award winning, 18th Century, West Dorset garden has been documented for all to read by its curator and head gardener.

Stephen Griffith has written a book on the development and restoration of Abbotsbury Subtropical Garden.

The Abbotsbury Gardens Story has been published as the gardens celebrate 250 years since they were first conceived by the first Countess of Ilchester as a kitchen garden for Abbotsbury castle.

Today in a unique, sheltered micro-climate next to the Dorset coast, thousands of rare plants thrive in what has a deserved reputation as a 'plantsman's garden'.

Mr Griffith, who has worked at Abbotsbury for 25 years, has tirelessly researched the history of the gardens and the lives and times of the Fox-Strangways family – the Earls of Ilchester – who own it.

He said: "I wanted to tell the gardens', past and present, its influencers and its struggles.

"In trying to unravel the history I discovered all sorts of interesting anecdotes, untold stories and connections with the present owner's ancestors.

"It is also very much a personal reflection of the challenges and changes over the years from the point of view of a head gardener.

"A good garden never stands still and no doubt there will be even more changes in the future."

The Abbotsbury Gardens Story is available from Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens online at www.abbotsbury-tourism.co.uk/gardens and selected outlets for £9.99.

Mountjoy pupils enjoy 'masterclass' with celebrity chef

CHILDREN at Mountjoy School in Beaminster were treated to a masterclass in baking when BBC MasterChef winner Mat Follas visited the school last week.

The chef baked cakes with the children, which were sold at the school's annual Christmas fayre on Saturday, November 28th.

The group made Lamingtons [an Australian favourite] by cutting sponge cake into cubes then dipping them in chocolate and coconut.

Class teacher Natalie Rashleigh said: "The children were very surprised to see Mat walk into class but they soon settled down and they all had a wonderful time getting messy with the chocolate."

Mat Follas won BBC MasterChef in 2009 and went on to open his award winning restaurant, The Wild Garlic, in Beaminster.

He currently has a restaurant at The Casterbridge Hotel in Dorchester, open on Friday and Saturday evenings.

He said: "It was a privilege to visit the children. We made Lamingtons, a favourite of mine from my native New Zealand. We all had a fantastic time."

Headteacher Jackie Shanks said: "We are thrilled that Mat popped-in to teach a cooking lesson. It was very exciting and the children had a brilliant time."

BBC MasterChef winner Mat Follas gave the children at Mountjoy School a lesson in baking as he visited them last week

Author inspires Burton schoolchildren

PUPILS at Burton Bradstock Primary School received a special visit from a Dorset children's author to hear more about writing.

Nick Rose, from Bournemouth, is the author of the Myro, the Smallest Plane in the World series – which is set in Australia – and spoke to the children about his books and what inspired him to become and author.

Headteacher Claire Staple said: "With a focus on improving writing this year, we were looking for ways to inspire the children.

"Having Nick come into school and share his experiences of being an author has really focused the children on writing for a purpose."

Mr Rose, dressed in a flying suit, explained to the children how his loves for flying and Australia were the inspiration behind the series.

At the end of the workshop, Scott in Year Two said: "You have to write about something you enjoy, I would like to write a book about football... I love football."

There was a buzz of excitement from the children after hearing about Myro the Microlight and his friends and listening to Mr Rose.

Jaxon, also in Year Two, said: "I was inspired by what Nick said and I would like to be an author too."

PUPILS at Burton Bradstock Primary School were inspired to write more and become authors after a visit from children's author, Nick Rose

Christmas Opening

Symondsbury scores with

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedia.co.uk

THOUSANDS of residents and visitors flocked to Symondsbury Estate last week for the annual Christmas market.

Dozens of stalls selling crafts, jewellery and Christmas gifts lined Manor Yard and the Tithe Barn and filled three marquees in the grounds.

Over 5,000 customers attended the afternoon of Christmas celebrations to add to their Christmas shopping and enjoy the festive atmosphere.

Julia Butcher, marketing manager at Symondsbury Estate and organiser of the Christmas market, said: "I am overwhelmed by how the Christmas market was received this year.

"Three years ago I thought it would be a good idea to hold a small market at Manor Yard and now it is one of the largest and well received Christmas events in the area.

"The visitor numbers have exceeded my expectations for the third year running. I have been inundated with emails from both the pitch holders and visitors to the event, congratulating us on how well organised it is and wanting to re-book for next year.

"The visitor response has included requests for the market to be held over a few days, which we are certainly looking into.

"I am currently thinking of holding a spring fair in April next year as the Christmas market is so much fun I don't think I can wait a whole year for it!"

Rotary 'this close' to eradicating polio

IT is perhaps not widely known that Rotary has played a leading role in helping to reduce polio worldwide by 99 per cent since its first project to vaccinate six million children in the Philippines in 1979.

Then, in 1985, Rotary launched an initiative called PolioPlus to free the entire world from polio, by the mass vaccination of children.

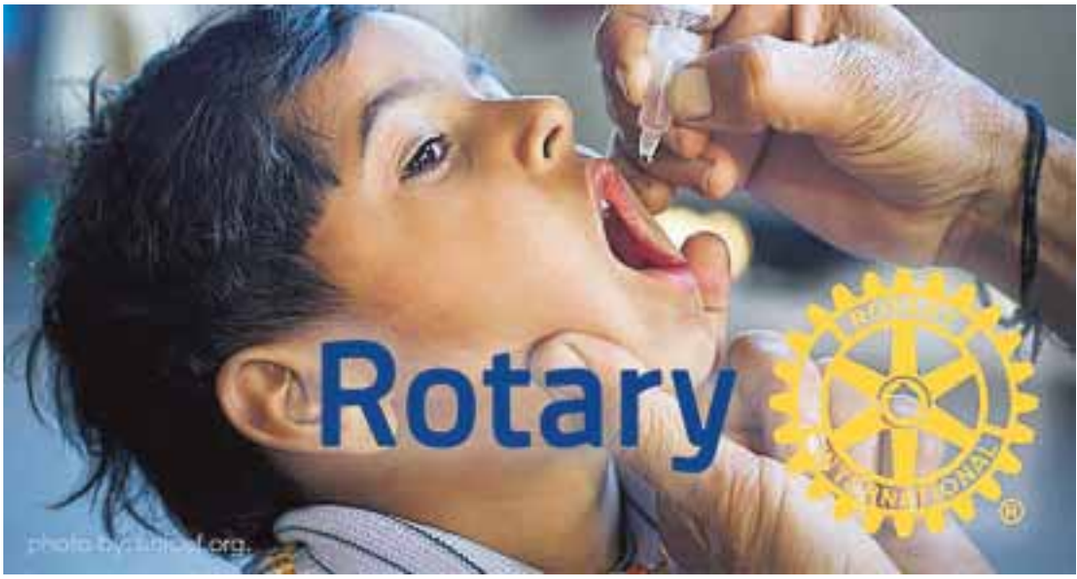
Many will remember family and friends stricken with this debilitating disease and the considerable life changes endured by its victims. At its height, polio had paralysed or killed up to half a million people a year before a vaccine was discovered in 1955. In 1961 an oral vaccine was invented and the UK launched the national immunisation programme in schools.

So where are we now? There have been no domestically acquired cases in the UK since 1982 and worldwide, there have been only 41 new polio cases so far this year. That's about one per week, down from 7,000 new cases per week in 1988 when Rotary was joined by the World Health Organisation, UNICEF, and the UK and US governments to formulate, fund and resource the Global Polio Eradication Initiative, the largest public health initiative the world has ever known. Whilst polio had disappeared in the UK, US, Australia and much of Europe, by this time it remained prevalent in more than 125 countries.

Polio is a highly infectious viral disease which mainly affects young children causing spinal and respiratory paralysis; it can kill and remains incurable to this day. Polio is spread through contaminated water or food or by way of an infected person's saliva.

Whilst incurable, polio is completely vaccine-preventable. However, only once before had a major virus based illness been eliminated worldwide, that was smallpox in 1980.

The task, to reach an unparalleled number of the world's poorest and disadvantaged children, was considerable with many barriers, including cultural and religious resistance, geographic isolation, poor public infrastructure and all of the problems associated with identifying and tracking children in hostile war torn areas in Africa and Asia.



Funding has been, and still is, the greatest challenge, and is provided by many contributors, chief amongst which are Rotary International, including local clubs across West Dorset, and the UK and US governments.

In 2008 The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation challenged Rotary to raise $200 million in two years and promised to match it. Rotary succeeded, the Foundation matched the $228million raised, and in 2013 agreed to match two for one every dollar raised by Rotarians up to $35 million per year until 2018, a commitment of over $500 million. Rotary is meeting this challenge!

Rotary is a voluntary, international service organisation comprising some 1.2 million members worldwide. Rotary has contributed more than £1billion (the largest private sector donor) and countless volunteer hours to immunise more than 2.5 billion children in 125 countries.

Rotarians from clubs around the world, including many from the UK, working alongside locals and UNICEF volunteers, continue to travel abroad to be involved in immunisation work and donate money to the PolioPlus program. Rotary has consistently fuelled the effort with resources, advocacy and genuine hard work on the ground, maintaining the dream of a polio-free world and bringing polio to the brink of eradication.

Their work has brought many additional benefits. The polio immunisation campaign has become a critical vehicle for delivering other health services to children. Vitamin A capsules are often given along with polio drops. In post-Taliban Afghanistan, polio vaccinators also supported the country's first birth registration campaign.

Health systems and facilities strengthened by polio eradication campaigns have been used to hold measles immunisation campaigns. Community education work funded by polio donors has boosted basic health and hygiene awareness in the world's poorest communities.

For as little as 40 pence, a child can be protected against this crippling disease for life. But polio isn't yet beaten. Cases exist today in Afghanistan and Pakistan and a recent outbreak in Ukraine has emphasised the need for continued vigilance, action and of course cash - through to 2018 some £3billion is needed for continued inoculation to guarantee elimination in Africa and Asia (scientists will certify eradication only after 3 clear years).

Recent cases have also highlighted the need for different injection based methods using dead poliovirus (rather than oral ones which use a weakened poliovirus).

West Dorset Rotarian John Bartlett, from the Lyme Regis club, said: "We can't stop now, the last percent is always the toughest and if we don't finish the job polio could return with a vengeance. According to WHO more than 10 million children under the age of five could be paralysed by the disease in the next 40 years if we lower our guard.

"Will it all have been worth it? The full cost of eradication will likely reach around £10billion by 2018, the year that scientists believe that polio will finally be beaten.

"Millions of lives have been saved, millions more will not suffer the debilitating effects of this terrible disease, millions more will benefit from the related health programmes - the answer is, emphatically - YES!

"But it's no time for celebration yet! Rotary and its partners will continue to strive for a polio free world... we are now 'this close'!"

TAKE A (JAY)WALK ON THE WILDSIDE

THE EXCITING, young trio Jaywalkers will be coming to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis this Saturday, December 4th. These former BBC Young Folk Award finalists are touring their third studio album – Weave - which sees them further expanding their musical horizons at all levels. Together they effortlessly fuse elements of Bluegrass and Folk and the music Jaywalkers create is innovative, rooted deeply in tradition, and exhilarating. The night promises to be an entertaining and foot stomping evening and is not to be missed!

Most of their songs are written/inspired by stories and poetry from Mike's home county of Lancashire. The history of the area only really starts around the time of the Industrial Revolution when the cotton industry arrived. So, the main theme running through the album is a study of the hardships of life in the Lancashire working classes. There are moments of playful respite – the two instrumentals are meant to be fast, playful up-tempo tunes – but the songs tell tales of protest, poverty, fight for freedom and, as is inevitable with folk songs, death.

Unlike their previous two albums which were done on little to no budgets, the third album finds the band working with an established producer, having full online and digital distribution, a PR campaign and the like. The larger budget for this has partly come courtesy of Help Musicians UK, who offered the band an 'Emerging Excellence Award' for young artists working in any genre of music. They applied for it in early 2014 and found out in March that they were successful. This meant the band were able to work with the fantastic Andy Bell (and his dog Hudson), who would engineer and produce the album.

Considered by many to be the top folk producer working on the British Folk Scene, Andy won a Folk Award for best album with the Full English project last year. The Emerging Excellence Award also enabled them to afford an illustrator to design the album and record most of it at Wavelength Studios in Doncaster (used by the likes of Martin Simpson and Jon Boden).

The music Jaywalkers create live, and on 'Weave' is innovative, rooted deeply in tradition, and exhilarating. With this new album and over 40 UK tour dates in February to April, a variety of summer festival gigs, and a winter tour in the planning, 2015 may well be the band's breakthrough year.

The Jaywalkers' show at the Marine Theatre this Saturday starts at 8pm (doors 7.15pm)

Throughout this adventure, audiences are encouraged to join in with the show; providing sound effects and practical help as Hansel and Gretel and their many friends make their way through the enchanted forest. Expect vibrant traditional storytelling packed with laughs and songs for the whole family to enjoy.

Archeaology Talk at Dorset County Museum

Making a Living from Land and Sea, Peasants and their Environments in Later Medieval England

DORSET County Museum invites you to come along to a talk on later Medieval England this Friday, December 4th at 7.30pm, which will explore how peasants made a living in both coastal and inland villages, and the impact this had on other areas of their lives, for example marriage.

Speaker Dr Miriam Muller, a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society, says "This talk is based on my current research and will examine the differences between inland and coastal villages, in particular in relation to their underlying economies, and what effect such differences had on social structure."

Dr Muller has published on various aspects of rural life in later medieval England, and has a special interest in the sociology of village communities and the relationships between lords and peasants, including the uprising of 1381. Recently, she has published a paper re-examining the status of peasant women, and is currently researching how medieval villagers dealt with orphans and young heirs to the land.

This talk is open to everyone and is free of charge, although we do encourage a donation of £3 to cover costs.

ReView: Glorious Mozart Concert at the Parish Church

THERE was a full house for last Sunday's splendid Mozart Concert, part of the Lyme Bay Chorale's Winter 2015 series. For this major occasion musical director Alex Davies invited additional solo singers and orchestral players, altogether amounting to over 50 performers impressively arrayed at the east end of the nave at the Parish Church. The programme consisted of two major religious choral works, the Credo Mass and the Litaniae de venerabili altaris sacremento. In between came the wonderful solo motet Exultate, jubilate. The two big choral works were written when Mozart was 20 years old, and the Exultate when he was only 16.

From the very first notes we could tell that this was going to be a fine concert, well prepared and delivered in excellent professional style. The voices of the Lyme Bay Chorale were well balanced throughout, the orchestra never overwhelming (even with 6 brass players and timpani) and particularly effective continuo provided by Peter Parshall playing the church's chamber organ and cellist Hilary Boxer. The Credo Mass lived up to its name, with the credo dominating all the other sections by its length and division into contrasting moods. The long silence before the quiet and intense "et incarnatus" was striking, as were the later joyful outbursts in the Hosanna section. The four soloists, Chloe Stratta, Julie De'ath Lancaster, Les Baker and David Fouracre, sang beautifully both in their solos and in ensemble.

There was a surprise in store for the performance of Exultate, jubilate. This was the appearance of the noted professional counter-tenor, Paul Esswood, to talk about the music and conduct the piece. He gave a graphic account of the 16-year-old Mozart's journey across the Alps in winter to hear the first performance of his opera Lucio Silla in Milan in 1772. The lead singer on that occasion was the castrato Venanzio Rauzzini, who so impressed Mozart that he composed Exultate especially for him. Incidentally Rauzzini, who later became a notable figure in Bath, enjoyed a private life which has given rise to speculation that he was not a castrato at all, but a natural male soprano! At all events the Exultate is astounding in its range and innovation. Philippa Hyde, who has given much support and encouragement to singers in Lyme Regis, gave a truly breath-taking performance. She combined beautiful tone with astonishing virtuosity, soaring through the fast runs and up to dramatic high notes with complete control and ease.

The final work was the last of Mozart's four settings of the Litany. For this many-sectioned prayerful music, Mozart composed wonderfully varied sections, some for soloists and others for full choir. The two solos, one for tenor (Les Baker) and one for soprano (Phillipa Hyde) were virtuoso pieces with busy orchestral accompaniments, beautifully executed. Other sections were solemn, and it was good to hear the choir sing slower quiet music with intensity and feeling. The great "Pignus" fugue, with its leaps, sustained notes and complicated rhythms, was a tour de force. Congratulations to all concerned, but especially to Alex Davies for conceiving and arranging such a memorable concert.

5 TIPS FOR A SAFER HOME...

By Julia Gray, Press Association

1. HAVING a property rewired is expensive and disruptive, so we often put up with the wiring we've inherited when we move and forget about getting it sorted. Unless the sockets, light switches and flexes are obviously old, it can be hard to tell the age of the wiring. A good place to start is the fuse box. If it has rewirable fuses, for example, it should probably be replaced because modern fuse boxes don't use fuse wire. Other signs of old wiring include sockets with burn marks, sockets mounted on skirting boards, and surface-mounted cables.

2. THE only way to be sure if the wiring's safe is to get a qualified electrician to test it. If your home does need rewiring, it's easiest to use an electrician registered with one of the Government's competent-person schemes, such as NICEIC (www.niceic.com), as they can self-certify that their work complies with building regulations. If they don't belong to such a scheme, you can get their work checked and signed off by a building control inspector (either from your local council or a private firm). The key thing is to get a completion certificate from a recognised body to prove that the electrical work is safe and legal, something often needed when you sell or rent out your home.

3. GAS appliances are another potential danger. By law, they must be installed by a Gas Safe Register engineer (www.gassaferegister.co.uk). They should also be serviced by one annually to ensure they're safe and working efficiently. Carbon monoxide poisoning from gas appliances can, of course, be fatal and is hard to detect. That's why it's safest to have a carbon monoxide alarm in each room where there's a gas appliance. But fitting one isn't enough - you must press the test button on it regularly to make sure it's working, and change the batteries when required, although some alarms have built-in batteries that can't be replaced.

4. SMOKE alarms should also be tested regularly, but there's nothing more annoying than one that goes off every time you burn a piece of toast. Taking out the battery is a potentially dangerous habit to get in to, so go for an alarm with a silencer button. Some alarms are 'toast proof', meaning they're less likely to be set off when you cook. If you have wired-in alarms (see below), your electrician should fit a heat detector, rather than a smoke alarm, in the kitchen.

5. ALL new homes must be fitted with interlinking wired-in smoke alarms and this can also apply when you do major building work, such as rewiring, or converting the loft. If you don't want to replace your home's existing doors with fire doors when doing a conversion, getting an electrician to install smoke alarms throughout should ensure compliance with building regs. If wired-in alarms aren't required, fitting smoke alarms that wirelessly interlink is a great alternative. Interlinking means that if there's a fire, all the alarms will go off at the same time, so even if you're sleeping a long way from the fire, you'll be alerted instantly.

Premium and stylish all-new Kia Optima on sale from £21,495

▲ All-New Kia Optima

SLEEKER, plusher, loaded with class-leading technologies, more refined yet more engaging to drive and up to 25 per cent more fuel-efficient…the list of superlatives for the all-new Kia Optima is almost never-ending. The all-new Optima, Kia's contender in the all-important UK fleet and business saloon market, goes on sale today priced from £21,495.

Four versions are available, all powered by an upgraded EU6 version of Kia's efficient 1.7-litre CRDi turbodiesel engine, now paired with either a six-speed manual or a new seven-speed (7DCT) dual-clutch auto transmission.

Fully connected to enhance comfort, convenience and safety

The all-new Optima is the first car in its class with a wireless charger for mobile devices, located in the base of the centre console.

The Optima is also available with a 360-degree Around View Monitor which, through four strategically mounted cameras, gives the driver a bird's-eye view when manoeuvring, while a Smart Park Assist System automatically steers the car in and out of parallel or perpendicular parking slots.

There is the option of Autonomous Emergency Braking and Bi-Xenon Dynamic Bending Headlights, which sweep the road in line with steering wheel movements, plus High Beam Assist to switch the lamps between full and dipped beam automatically.

Lane Keep Assist, Speed Limit Information Function, Blind Spot Detection and Rear Cross Traffic Alert, which warns drivers about to pull out of a perpendicular parking space into the path of a vehicle approaching from the side, are also available.

Up to 25 per cent lower CO2 emissions with improved economy

The Optima's 1.7-litre CRDi turbodiesel engine now develops an improved 139bhp and increased torque of 340Nm, starting at a lower 1,750rpm. This represents increases of 5bhp and 15Nm over the previous version. The engine meets EU6 emissions regulations and delivers outstanding performance for its capacity with effortless driveability. It was engineered at Kia's European research and development centre in Germany.

With the Idle Stop & Go (ISG) engine stop/start system as standard, CO2 emissions of manual models are 14 per cent lower at 110g/km, while fuel economy improves to a highly impressive 67.3mpg. An even bigger improvement is apparent with the new 7DCT dual-clutch auto gearbox, which replaces the previous six-speed torque converter unit. Emissions tumble by 25 per cent, to 116g/km, while fuel economy is now 64.2mpg.

As a result, benefit-in-kind taxation in manuals falls by three tax bands, while for the 7DCT the reduction is an even more dramatic 42g/km and eight tax bands. Meanwhile, with fuel consumption improved by almost 10mpg for manual models and more than 17mpg for the 7DCT automatics, fleet running costs will be dramatically lower – an attractive proposition for fleet customers.

For private owners there are significant benefits, too. The standard rate of Vehicle Excise Duty, or road tax, falls by £90 per year with manual versions and by £150 with the 7DCT after the initial registration payment.

The seven-speed (7DCT) dual-clutch auto transmission was developed in-house at Kia's research and development centre in Korea with the aim of delivering the comfort and smoothness of a torque converter transmission in automatic mode with the sportiness of a manual when the driver chooses to take control of gear-changing via the steering wheel-mounted paddle shifters.

A plug-in hybrid (PHEV) Optima, offering a commuter-friendly all-electric drive range with even lower emissions and greater taxation advantages, will be added later in 2016.

And it will not stop there. Kia has already announced that it plans to offer sporty GT-Line and GT versions later in 2016, while the SPORTSPACE concept from the 2015 Geneva Motor Show hints at an estate version to come – another first for the company.

Sharper appearance and greater cabin quality

Kia has taken an evolutionary approach to the all-new Optima's exterior design, maintaining the identity of a car which still looks as smart today as it did when launched, while introducing greater modernity and boldness.

The all-new Optima has an even greater road presence thanks to a 10mm increase in wheelbase and overall length, a similar increase in height and a 25mm wider body. At the same time, sharper body lines and greater surface detailing make the all-new Optima stand out from the crowd even more.

The increase in overall length to 4,855mm creates space for an even more swept-back and dynamic side profile. A shoulder line extending all the way from the front light units creates a clean, straight link from front and rear. The door panels are deeply sculpted and curve into slightly extended side sills.

The car's athletic appearance is reinforced at the rear, where a rising boot lid and an expansive rear bumper flow into a diffuser section which houses the chrome-tipped oval exhaust tailpipe.

The new body is more aerodynamically efficient as well as more stylish, reducing the drag co-efficient (Cd) from 0.3 to 0.29. Each tiny improvement in Cd has a significant impact on fuel economy, particularly at higher speeds.

The all-new Optima has a more modern interior layout with a horizontal dash structure and far higher-quality materials. The dash is now angled at 8.5 degrees towards the driver. The standard central 7.0- or 8.0-inch navigation touch-screen is set at exactly the same height as the instruments.

The fascia is divided into an upper display zone and a lower control zone, while the number of buttons and switches has been reduced because more functions are now accessed via the touch-screen, giving the cabin a less cluttered look.

The impressive quality is apparent in the soft-touch materials, interior lighting – LED at the top of the range – and, on the road, greater refinement as a result of increased sound-proofing.

All of this is supported by increased passenger and luggage space and improved practicality thanks to the car's enlarged dimensions, while the boot capacity has risen from 505 to 510 litres, and there is a wider opening.

Back to black: Volkswagen Scirocco special editions add style and value

THE 'kerb appeal' of Volkswagen's exhilarating Scirocco sports coupé has never been in doubt: the distinctive silhouette and wide, low stance of this third generation model – revealed just last year – continue to turn heads.

Now Volkswagen is boosting the Scirocco's desirability yet further with the UK launch of two special edition versions – both available to order in dealers now – that add not only extra style but also enhance the four-seat coupé's already-strong value proposition.

The debut of two new Scirocco Black Edition models: the Scirocco GT Black Edition and Scirocco R-Line Black Edition, sees the addition as standard of black painted alloy wheels, a black painted contrast roof, door mirrors and rear spoiler, and 90% tinted rear windows. Together, they significantly enrich the visual appeal of this already dynamic-looking coupé.

The Scirocco GT Black Edition boasts 18-inch Black Lisbon alloy wheels, while the R-Line Black Edition benefits from arch-filling 19-inch Black Lugano alloy wheels. Priced from £23,135 (RRP OTR) for the GT Scirocco Black Edition 1.4-litre TSI BlueMotion Technology – a premium of £550 over the equivalent GT and R-Line trims – the new models offer great value for money, too. As an example, the 18-inch Lisbon alloy wheels alone would otherwise be a £610 option on the GT trim, while the cars' 90% tinted windows are a £70 option.

The third generation Scirocco made its global public debut at the Geneva Motor Show in March 2014 – 40 years after the original debuted – and comes with a range of advanced engines that offer up to 280 PS yet also promise both impressive performance and fuel efficiency.

Styling highlights include eye-catching headlight and LED tail light designs, a front bumper featuring aerodynamic 'blades' in the outer section and, inside, a dashboard containing an auxiliary instrument cluster above the centre console consisting of chronometer, charge pressure and oil temperature gauges.

Under the Scirocco's purposeful bonnet lies one of six turbocharged direct-injection petrol or diesel engines, all of which meet EU6 emissions standards and return between 67.3 and 35.3 mpg. Every model in the range except the R feature BlueMotion Technology additions, meaning they come as standard with Stop/Start and brake energy recuperation systems.

In new GT Black Edition and R-Line Black Edition guise the petrol range comprises a 1.4-litre 125 PS or a 2.0-litre 180 PS unit while two diesel engines, both 2.0-litre, offer either 150 PS or 184 PS. The 1.4-litre TSI comes with a six-speed manual gearbox, while all other engines are fitted with a standard six-speed manual gearbox or the option of a six-speed DSG gearbox.

Performance over the 0-62 mph sprint ranges from 9.3 seconds to 5.5 seconds, depending on engine and transmission choice, while top speeds, where legal, range from 126 mph to 155 mph (limited).

Standard equipment across the entire Scirocco range includes the Composition Media system with 6.5-inch colour touchscreen, Bluetooth telephone and audio connection, DAB digital radio receiver, MDI (Multi Device Interface) via USB connection, SD card reader and single CD player along with air conditioning; automatic headlights and wipers; an auto-dimming rear view mirror; height- adjustable sports seats and a multifunction leather-covered steering wheel (with paddleshifts on DSG models).

The Scirocco GT features, in addition to the Composition Media system, Discover Navigation offering branded points of interest, dynamic navigation based on TMC+, preloaded European navigation data and Fast, Short and Eco route options as well as 2Zone climate control; dark-tinted rear windows; front fog lights; front and rear parking sensors; a black roof lining; 'chequered flag' dash inserts and aluminium-look pedals and cloth and part Alcantara-trimmed upholstery.

The R-Line model comes with R-Line-specific bumpers and side skirts; R-Line scuff plates; an R-Line-specific steering wheel, handbrake and gear lever; 'carbon-look' dash inserts; and heated, electrically adjustable 'Vienna' leather sports seats.

Top-of-the-range Scirocco R models add a host of sporting and luxury features including Dynamic Chassis Control (DCC); Unique 'R' sports suspension lowered by around 10 mm; Bi-xenon headlights with dynamic curve lighting, automatic range adjustment, static cornering function and headlight washers; black brake calipers with 'R' logo; LED daytime running lights set into the front bumper (in lieu of front fog lights); a bespoke 'R' styling pack; Gloss Black decorative interior trim inserts; leather trimmed three-spoke multifunction steering wheel Vienna leather upholstery and front sports seats with embossed 'R' logo.

Volkswagen Scirocco GT Black Edition and R-Line Black Edition models are available to order now, with first registrations due in January 2016. For more details visit: www.volkswagen.co.uk

SEATON TOWN RES 2 LYME REGIS RES 7
Division Seven

LYME Regis Reserves eventually overcame a spirited and youthful Seaton Town Reserves side to extend their unbeaten league run to 10 matches.

Seaton had the benefit of a gusty diagonal wind in the first half and Colyford Road.

They took advantage of this in the eighth minute when Jake Rostram let fly with a speculative first time shot that drifted over Chris Higgs and into the net from all of 25 yards out.

But Lyme were only behind for ten minutes. Stefan Taylor found Sam Bevis wide on the left and his low cross picked out striker Joe Bond who turned well before guiding a shot into the far corner.

This triggered a period of superiority for the visitors. Mark Bailey had a shot from distance superbly tipped over the bar by keeper Ben Abbott who then did well to pounce on the ball during a goal mouth melee.

Adam Caddy and Bond also went close, but the next goal came ten minutes before the interval at the other end when a cross from the right was turned into his own net by right back Adam Clark.

However the chances kept coming for Lyme; Bond shot straight at Abbott as did Mark Batey from close range.

◆ ON TARGET: Sam Bevis bagged Lyme Reserves last goal in big win at Seaton.

Bond then set up Sam Bevis but he scooped his shot well over the bar.

It was only a matter of time before Lyme equalised and they did in the 44th minute. Bond had acres of space but shot against the foot of the post, as he retrieved the rebound he was hauled down by Abbott. Bond dusted himself down and blasted in the resulting spot kick.

The visitors went ahead for the first time in the 54th minute when Bailey's free-kick was glanced in by Batey.

Bailey made the game safe midway through the half and the floodgates looked set to open as the hosts tired.

Bond surged on to the through ball before neatly lobbing the ball home from the D for his hat-trick.

The livewire striker than latched onto a long downfield punt from Higgs to score his fourth and Lyme's sixth.

The scoring was completed by Bevis who teed himself up before volleying past Abbott.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE
CORONATION CUP SEMI-FINALS

THIS season's Coronation cup final will see a re-run of the Chard Hospital cup final when Shepton Beauchamp and Perry Street battled out a superb game at Chard Town FC's Zembard Lane with Shepton coming from 2-0 to win an enthralling encounter 3-2.

BARRINGTON 1 SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP 2

SHEPTON Beauchamp were forced to come from behind to extend their unbeaten run to 13 matches and clinch a place in the Coronation Cup final.

After a goalless first half top-scorer Andy Whitefield put Barrington ahead with his 15th goal of the season.

But holders Shepton, now without the influential Kris Hastings who has returned to Sherborne Town, refused to release their grip on the trophy and two goals from Adam Dawe, the second a fine header turned the game around.

Both managers praised the efforts of Shepton keeper Rich Pippin who was in fine form between the sticks.

In the absence of Hastings Shepton manager Aggie Smith was pleased to have striker Dan Smith back in his squad after six weeks out with injury.

SOUTH PETHERTON 0 PERRY STREET 3

PERRY STREET bounced back from last week's county cup disappointment to keep alive their hopes of lifting the Coronation cup for the first time in 45 years.

An own goal and Dan Collins' 14th of the season had the Mothers in control at the break. Jay Stewart applied the icing on the cake after the interval. Street manager Andy Bond was purring at the win he said: "That was out best performance of the season – we could have had a hatful in the first half."

Ashley Smith missed a couple of first half sitters for Pethy whose manager Karl Diment had few complaints: "They wanted in more and deserved the win."

DAISY HUTCHINGS CUP R2

BEAMINSTER RES (DIV 1) 6 COMBE A (D1) 3

A HAT-TRICK from John Kingston helped Beaminster Reserves dispose of Combe A at the Memorial Ground.

Dan Pyett (2, 1pen) and Gary Corry waded in with the other for the Rainbows who had Ben Parmiter sent off by referee Lance Turner for preventing a goal scoring opportunity.

Jake Board, Wayne Long and Chris Warry netted for the Saints who also ended the game with 10 men after Warry was shown two yellows - the second for simulation.

DIVISION ONE CUP SF

HAWKCHURCH UTD 3 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 2

VERY windy conditions made this an awkward game for both sides.

The Hounds started well and were 1-0 up after just four minutes when central midfielder Steve Masters headed the ball into the path of Jon Legg who raced through and scored.

The Hounds then rode their luck before top scorer Gavin Herrod equalised with his 19th goal of the season midway through the half.

But the Hounds were soon back in front after a long kick from keeper Lee Cuff was headed on by Garry Goodall and it was Legg again who was on to it in a flash and hammered the ball home.

Legg almost made it three after running into the area with the ball with only the keeper to beat Legg but was clipped from behind by a defender and went over, but the ref Wayne Ridout waved away penalty claims.

The wind got stronger in the second half and although The Hounds worked hard to keep Hawks out they eventually got the equaliser through a Bradley Cross header.

Goodall went close for the Hounds, but his strike from distance brought a finger-tip save from the home keeper, who then grabbed the ball before it crossed the line.

Goodall went close again in extra time but his header from a Leigh Hansford free kick was straight at the keeper.

After Legg was waved away for a second penalty claim and it was ironic that Hawkchurch then won the game with a Josh Short penalty in the second half of extra time.

Disappointed Hounds manager Mark Hughes said: "I think anyone that knows Jon Legg knows he would never dive in a goal scoring opportunity, he is probably the most honest player you could meet.

"If we had gone 3-1 up things could have been very different, but credit to Hawkchurch, they are a very good young side that has come up through the divisions together and they play some very good football."

Hawkchurch's opponents in the final on January 2nd will be Drimpton who won by the same score line at Misterton.

KENNY HODGES CUP R1

HINTON (D2) 1 NETHERBURY RES (D3) 2

NETHERBURY Reserves made it back-to-back extra time cup triumphs with a fine win at Division Two outfit Hinton St George in the Kenny Hodges Cup first round tie.

The wind was swirling and sporadic outbreaks of rain made the conditions difficult on a pitch with long grass.

The the visitors opened the scoring when a superb through ball from Steven Coombes put Alex Goodrick in down the right hand side. The Ambers striker wriggled past two defenders and drilled a low effort that cannoned in to the net off the keeper legs.

Netherbury were then nearly caught out against the run of play when Hinton hit the base of the post.

But they started the second half strongly going down the slope and some one touch pass and move football resulted in Ellingham striking the foot of the post with the slightest touch from the keeper making it a good save.

Against the run of play the game was brought level when a mistake from keeper Adam Sorrel allowed a tap in for Ross Jewell, and the tie went in to extra time.

Just as it seemed everyone had settled for penalties and with minutes minutes left on the clock - Netherbury made the breakthrough with a scrappy goal.

Goodrick was tackled on one side of the area and it looked like a foul and a penalty, with players appealing the ball ended up in a scramble in the area, and Ellingham slid the ball over the line from two yards for the late winner.

Manager James Sayers noted: "Sometimes you just have to battle for victories, it was not pretty, but we still tried to play football, despite the conditions, and deserved the win today".

◆ WINNER: Pete Ellingham scored Netherbury Reserves' winner in cup upset at Hinton

PREMIER

CREWKERNE TOWN 2 BEAMINSTER 12

AFTER a one of the most difficult periods in the club's long history Crewkerne Town are still alive and kicking.

Doubts were cast as to whether the Tigers could put a team out for Saturday's visit by title contenders Beaminster. But temporary manager Paul Higgins did just that and was rewarded with an own goal and a Nathan Jennings strike in a predictable hefty defeat.

"Beaminster are a good side but our young team put up a good fight only trailing 4-1 at half-time.

"We just need to stay positive – some of our lads will easily hold their own in the league, they just need more experience," said Higgins.

Dan Baggs (5), Josh Hunter (4), Russell Legg, Murray Legg and Owen Ward dished out the dozen goals for the visitors who returned to the top of the table and still boast a 100 per cent record.

FORTON RANGERS 2 LYME BANTAMS 3

LYME Regis Bantams moved off the foot of the table with their first ever win in the Premier Division at windswept Forton.

Lyme had the better of the first half although they were indebted to a goal line clearance from Steve Batey.

The visitors took the lead in the 41st minute when Cameron Fowler, who had a fine game on the right wing, swung a cross that was headed in to the top corner of his own net by Forton defender Chris Fowler.

The lead was doubled 10 minutes into the second half when another dangerous Fowler cross was tapped in at the far post by Dec Ellis.

The hosts mounted a fight back in the last quarter hour and levelled with strikes from Lee Richardson and Andy Stevenson.

But straight from the kick-off Lyme surged up the other end and grabbed the points when Pete Peacock got on the end of an Ellis cross to score from close range in the 88th minute.

Ellis and Fowler were top performers for the visitors.

W & M CHINNOCK 1 CHARD UTD 1

SOME crucial saves by Chinnocks' manager-keeper Matt Alford denied visitors Chard United at Oxleaze. "They (Chard) probably deserved to have won and looked really good," said Alford.

The hosts took the lead when Charlie Gay put Mark Cawley through. But the visitors levelled before the interval and only two fine stops in the second period by Alford prevented all three points heading over to Jocelyn Park.

Alford picked out Tom Charles as his MoM.

WINSHAM UTD 1 COMBE RESERVES 2

BOTH teams finished Saturday's game at wind-blown Bakers Field with 10 men as referee John Thorne produced 10 yellow cards including two each for Winsham's Bradley Masters and Combe's Tom Symes

Combe capitalised on two defensive slips to score twice in the lead up to half time – Stuart Packer and Dan Rodber the marksmen.

A foul on Ian Hilton in the area saw Warren Gabbidon pull one back for the hosts with a 70th minute penalty.

DIVISION ONE

PYMORE 1 BARRINGTON RESERVES 2

DEPLETED Pymore's indifferent run of form continued as they slipped to their third consecutive defeat.

A deflected free-kick from Nathan Goldstone from near the halfway line gave the hosts the lead but title-chasing Barrington were level before the break thanks to a Joe Kingman goal direct from a corner.

The second half winner came in unfortunate circumstances as Goldstone's attempted clearance hit Barrington's Leighton Cox and looped into the net.

DIVISION THREE

CHARMOUTH 7 ILMINSTER TOWN A 0

ANOTHER strong performance and quick start going saw Cahrmouth sew up this game inside the opening half-hour.

Brin Seward was brought down in the box and Dan Rendell converted the penalty to start the goals flowing.

Further strikes from Dan Rendell and two From Bill Ward made it 4-0 at half-time.

It was a case of more of the same in the same in second 45 with two goals from Alistair Harvey who was unlucky not to get his hat-trick after heading on to the bar.

Ward then completed his hat-trick to complete the scoring and move the Robins back up to fourth place in the table.

Charmouth manager Kevin Pratt said: " It was a confident display and we are hoping to carry this on against Halstock next Saturday in the Bill Bailey Cup."

PERRY STREET RES 1 UPLYME RESERVES 5

UPLYME Reserves also made progress up the table with a comfortable victory at Perry Street Reserves who have now conceded 15 goals in their last three outings.

The visitors took the lead when Hakim Bibb got on the end of a cross from Andrico Pelaou and finished well.

Pelaou bagged the second and Uplyme were well set at 2-0 at the interval.

The win was secured when Frank Harris calmly rolled home number three and Street began to unravel.

Jonny Harris sidestepped both his marker and the keeper to make it 4-0 before Charlie Grierson notched a consolation for the hosts.

Uplyme saved their best till last with skipper Craig Coles curling home a free-kick from all of 25 yards.

Bridport Rugby Club

First floodlit friendly is great success

BRIDPORT Second xv (Development Squad) played Dorchester (mixed 2nds/ 3rds) under lights at the Brewery Ground on Friday night.

Fifty spectators braved the cold and damp to watch the spectacle.

This match was a first for Bridport. as the previous lights did not achieve match standard. Following a partial grant from RFU the lights were fitted in the summer by Chris and Ricky Stubbs.

The game was a friendly as part of the programme of local club friendlies to promote social, rather than league rugby. The match was officiated by young referee Louie Browne and assisted by Michael O'Hagan.

Bridport started strongly and opened the scoring within two minutes and crossed the line regularly with Rob Davies, Anthony Dommett, Jason Kidd and Jamie Livingstone amongst the try scorers.

It was not all one-sided and Dorchester attacked frequently, with their wingers and a very mobile prop threatened, but Bridport's tackling was robust and they were quick over the ball at the breakdown.

There was some fierce clearing out and overall the performance was worthy of a higher level team.

Dan Down made a welcome return to rugby following an injury lay off. He charged Dorchester's line and penetrated to great effect. Linking with Livingstone and nimble Joe Hewetson is was very much an attacking performance.

Daraigh McGloughlin also returned from a concussion, being placed on the, and proved a handful for the opposition back line. Richie Middleton, Kidd and Toby Hawker linked well and made good ground.

The only negative points to the Bridport game was that some offloads could have been made earlier to use supporting runners and overlaps.

Dorchester had good individual skills but it was obvious that Bridport were more of a unit and put on a good team performance. The final score was 39-5 to Bridport.

All-in-all it was a good evening: social but entertaining rugby, the lights proving up to the task, the bar open till late and a bolognaise supper.

Saturday's fixtures (2.15pm ko) Dorchester v Bridport 1st XV, Bridport 2nd XV v Swanage & Wareham 4ths.

Bridport Under 10s v Weymouth/Yeovil

THE hard work put in by the young Blues during mid-week training paid off handsomely on Sunday as they got the better of two very strong sides in Weymouth and Yeovil.

Playing away at Weymouth, the first game was very close with Luke O'Neil showing good pace to outrun the defence and score.

Weymouth equalised with the last move of the game to leave it 1 - 1, but Bridport were warming to the task and against a solid Yeovil side showed real character and no little skill to record a 4 - 2 win.

O'Neil scored again and new recruit Matthew Elven crossed the line for his first try for the club. Mally Titcombe-James claimed the third try, and then the fourth with a terrific flourish having run half the length of the pitch.

Bridport continued to work well together as a team in attack and defence, and in the second game against Weymouth they won convincingly 3–1.

Titcombe-James completed his hat-trick for the day, Elven outsprinted the opposition for his second.

After some good support play Henry Everitt was stopped inches short of the line, but the everalert Charlie Brake was on hand to complete the move.

In the fourth and final game against Yeovil, the Under 10s delighted their coaches by keeping a clean sheet whilst scoring twice.

Abi Alner was quickest to a loose ball after a strong run from O'Neil for the first try, with Charles Edwards providing the second with a powerful run upfield.

Dom Burdett won Player of the day award with an excellent allround display.

Weymouth U12 10 Bridport 10

PLAYING downhill in the first half Bridport were faced with a team that, often allowed to be offside, drove them back over the ball, and released quick ball to their backs.

But Bridport took the lead when a distance kick from Toby Pattermore was chased down by Oliver Hansford-Harvey to score the first try.

In a first half lasting 27 minutes, Weymouth equalised in the score in the last seconds.

At half time spectators felt that Weymouth would run away with the game downhill.

Not so. A try by Weymouth was matched by a barnstorming uphill touch down by George Found. A breakaway try from Weymouth seemed to seal it, but again Bridport surged up the slope, fed the ball to Jake Lydon who drove over for a levelling try on the final whistle.

With Henry Mason winning four against the head, George Found driving 70 metres, and Araminta May having a blinder at Scrum Half, choice of Man of the Match was going to be difficult, but Jake Lydon's defensive tackles and levelling try secured him the title.

◆ GOOD EFFORT: Bridport Under 13s recently raised £532 towards the tour to Ireland by packing carrier bags at Morrioson's in Bridport

Community spirit

BRIDPORT U13s squad raised funds for their tour to Ireland by packing carrier bags at Morrison's, Bridport

A spokesman for the squad said: "Dressed in their match kit, the players spent the day helping customers bag packing at the tills. This was a great opportunity to chat to the local community about our tour and the game we love playing.

"Over the day we raised £532, so a big thank you to all the customers that were so generous and supportive to our goal.

"The team of players and parents are targeting £8500 to take 24 boys to play in the county Cork rugby festival, Ireland.

"So far we have raised £4500 from many different events in the past two months. We have put on boot sales, hog roasts, bingo nights, fashion shows and collected 1ps, 2ps from all the players' friends and families.

"It all goes towards creating the opportunity to experience new horizons and helps broaden the players' enjoyment of the game.

Our next event is the Christmas dinner and auctions at the Red Brick Café on Saturday (7pm).

"We have put together a wide range of fabulous item and events to bid for and we hope you can come down to support us on the St Michaels trading estate."

Stunning away victory for ten-man Hawks

PGSOB A 0 West Dorset Hawks 3

DESPITE only having 10 players due to the late withdrawal of captain Robin Goodfellow through injury, West Dorset Hawks overcame gale force winds, rain and cold to beat fellow strugglers Plymouth Grammar School Old Boys A.

Because of the elements it was a fairly scrappy game, and in the first half the two sides cancelled each other out with only a couple of half chances at either end. However, PGSOB did have one good opportunity to take the lead but Hawks' keeper Tom Lowe, who was in outstanding form throughout, pulled off a great save.

Despite their depleted numbers, the Hawks took the game to their opponents after the break and were soon rewarded with a goal.

A good move involving Richard Puzey and Gavin Brooking saw them release right back Julian May. He drove into the 25 before firing in a cross which was converted at the far post by the inrushing Ollie Gargrave.

Within five minutes they had doubled their lead, although there was a touch of luck about it.

May launched an aerial pass from some distance, and with the Plymouth defenders frantically running back to cover, the ball hit a wire used to suspend the divider net across the pitch and dropped nicely for stand-in skipper Rick Steele. He moved forward into the D and when his shot was blocked, Gargrave was on hand to fire home from the resulting melee.

PGSOB's tempers became frayed in the frustration, and they had a player yellow carded for abuse to the umpire, but it also galvanised them and they put the Hawks under severe pressure. MOM Lowe had to make a series of saves to keep them at bay, the best a fantastic reaction save to push a flick away that was a certain goal whilst going the wrong way.

Surviving a barrage of short corners the Hawks broke out and a neat passing movement saw Charlie Davis release Steve Mearing who went on a superb solo run from the halfway line beating three players before scoring and putting the result beyond doubt.

Unfortunately he was harshly yellow carded for a tackle at the restart, and with Plymouth back to full strength, the Hawks had to survive the final ten minutes with just nine players.

This was a stunning performances in the circumstances in which every player deserves credit for their efforts.

Kellas slams six

West Dorset A 9 Minehead B 0

FOLLOWING their poor performance the previous weekend, West Dorset A returned to form at home to lowly Minehead B.

From the start it was West Dorset forcing the play and they wasted no time in taking the lead as John Kellas slotted home after three minutes.

The home side were dictating play and they extended their lead on 10 minutes when Russell Coombes squared the ball for Kellas to tap home.

Kellas added his third just before half time when he picked up a loose ball in the area and fired into the corner.

The defence of Rob Clarke, Giles Maltby, Bertie Newman and Henry Middleton were rock solid with stand-in keeper Alex Drew only having to make one save in the first half.

The second half started in similar fashion with West Dorset earning a short corner in the opening minutes which resulted in a serious knee injury to the Minehead keeper who was unable to continue.

Following a 10 minute stoppage, the home side played some of their best hockey this season. Dan Wyatt, Krystian Dubas and Andrew Frampton were dominating midfield and creating chances for Kellas who scored his fourth before Coombes got himself on the score sheet when he skilfully deflected Rich Wilson's shot past the keeper.

The home side were forcing a number of short corners with the stand-in Minehead keeper making some smart saves, but West Dorset added to the score when Kellas scored his fifth and sixth goals.

Coombes scored two more to complete his hat trick towards the end, to make the final score 9-0.

Skipper Middleton said, "This was a great team performance, coming so soon after our shambolic showing the previous weekend. Everybody retained possession and passed the ball well.

"It was good to have John Kellas back in the team following a two game absence and he certainly showed his worth with six goals!"

Beaminster cruise to easy win

Beaminster 7 Salisbury 4th 0

BEAMINSTER coasted to an easy win over bottom side Salisbury 4th's to boost their goal difference.

The visiting keeper was in good form once again as she was in their reverse fixture where she won her side their only point this season by keeping a blank sheet.

However, 14 minutes in Megan Tuck, who had already seen two efforts saved, cut the ball along the byline for Holly Clarke to score.

Beaminster continued their relentless pressure and eventually they broke through again to score through Andrea Prentice, before Tuck got a third with a cheeky back flick following a short corner before half time.

Salisbury, to their credit and with nothing to lose, applied some pressure early in the second half which was well dealt with by the Beaminster defence before the hosts took control again.

Jackie Gape was running the Salisbury defence ragged with her mazy runs to the point that frustration set in and she was the subjected to some late tackles. However she had the last laugh by adding the fourth with a shot from a tight angle, before Prentice added her second of the match.

Jenny Clarke stayed forward having made a run from the back and added the sixth with a reverse stick shot from open play, before daughter Holly completed the scoring with her second goal.

Such was Beaminster's dominance that keeper Rachel Goodfellow only touched the ball three times.

However, in the last ten minutes they relaxed thinking job done, and Salisbury were unlucky when Beaminster were caught in possession and should have had a penalty flick awarded against them from the resulting melee.

Beaminster: Rachel Goodfellow, Jenny Clarke, Georgina Baker, Tary Critchard, Julia May, Andrea Prentice, Jackie Gape, Megan Tuck, Phoebe Stewart, Holly Clarke, Iris Garcia.

Hard work pays off for Slaney

SIX days earlier things looked rosy for Bridport Boxing Club's chairman and head coach Alan Slaney as he ran his eye down the list of potential bouts ahead of last Saturday's annual tournament at Freshwater Holiday Park writes Stuart Broom.

Then disaster struck as injury and illness started to decimate his list.

Despite working from 4.30am trying to arrange replacements, by Thursday he was left with just seven, which included just two of his own club's 10 boxers, who had been forced out through injury and work commitments.

All his planning and hard work had been undone, but come Saturday evening 20 boxers who a crowd of around 350 another entertaining evening of skilful and absorbing boxing.

The evening opened with a skills bout between Joe Martin of Dorchester and Ben Benham from Blandford who set the scene for the night with a great display.

Most of the bouts involved younger boxers (aged 11-17 years) making their way in the sport and all went the distance except for two which ended in the second round with technical knockouts through injuries.

An appreciative crown once again helped to fuel the atmosphere, particularly at the finish which involved the two Bridport boxers, although unfortunately their support couldn't inspire victories.

Liam Middleton faced James Lee, and although the Ferndown boxer won a unanimous decision, Middleton gave a good account of himself.

In the final bout of the night Kyle D'arcy (Wessex) was too strong for Bridport's Peter Wellman who despite giving his all was on the wrong end of another unanimous decision.

The fight of the night involved Jed Davies (Barnstable) who won a split decision over Callum Charnock (Launceston), both boxers being congratulated by the judges and officials for their skills.

Addressing the crowd before proceedings Coach Slaney expressed his worry during the build up, the first time in 36 years that the tournament has been running that they have encountered such a problem, and thanked the committee for helping get the show on the road.

He explained that circumstances had meant that for the first time ever top club's like Willenhall, for which his brother is the coach, Golden Ring and Mayflower had been unable to send boxers.

He also thanked Freshwater for their support and the crown for which without the club wouldn't survive.

Bees get deserved reward for hard work

Bridport 4 Hallen 3

Toolstation Premier – att; 70

BRIDPORT produced a dramatic comeback when beating Hallen in a seven goal thriller at St Mary's on Saturday.

Despite gale force winds both sides produced entertaining football that saw Mark Salter score his first goal for the Bees and Jamie Beasley fire a brace.

Things started badly for the hosts as they fell two goals behind inside 22 minutes, but Bridport stuck to their task and pulled a goal back just before the break.

Three goals in seven minutes in the final quarter of an hour put them in the driving seat, and although the Armadillos scored again four minutes before time, Bridport held on.

Hallen had the advantage of the elements in the first half and took the lead through a mistake from Bee's young keeper Josh Hadley who dropped Graham Joint's header from a corner at the feet of Kevin Camarco, who couldn't miss.

Bridport were by no means out of the game with Jamie Beasley firing in a succession of left wing crosses - Warren Byerley should have equalised three minutes later when he failed to control one eight yards from goal, allowing Ollie Butler to intercept and clear.

Bridport were attacking in droves and Alan Hill was unlucky to drive his shot just wide of the far post.

Despite Bridport's attacking intentions, it was Hallen who doubled their lead when the ball played over the Bees defence held in the wind allowing Camarco fire past an unprotected Hadley from 15 yards.

It was nearly three soon after when Tomas Collett almost broke the crossbar with a 20-yard free kick.

Despite the heavy conditions, Tom Richardson was outstanding and eventually forced Joint to bring him down on the angle of the penalty box.

Although Beasley's free kick was blocked, the ball was recycled and Chris Clarke saw his angled shot blocked at the near post by keeper Craig Beavis.

Bridport got one goal back in the 43rd minute. Byerley fired in a vicious shot which Beavis tipped onto the post.

However, Beasley collected the rebound and fired it just inside the far post.

With the wind at their backs, Bridport immediately took the game to Hallen from the restart, but were lucky when Hadley dropped Read's long cross, and Ryan Hayter was quick to hack the ball to safety.

Beasley's powerful running down the left was causing problems and when Salter put him clear he ran on before smashing a shot against the outside of the near post.

With just over 20 minutes remaining Matt Condliffe was introduced, and it was his injection of speed that changed the game Bridport's way.

Having had Beavis sprawling to hang on to his low shot, he sprinted onto Hayter's ball down the right before crossing into the six-yard box where Salter slipped the ball home.

Almost immediately a now rattled Beavis miskicked a clearance and Beasley rounded him but shot past the far post.

Bridport took the lead on 78 minutes when Clarke's ball was neatly flicked on by Condliffe to leave Beasley in space, and with Hallen hardly knowing which way they were kicking his thumping low cross was turned into his own goal by a defender.

A third goal in just seven minutes followed when Max Buckler dinked the ball over the visiting defence for Beasley to run on to and explode a shot into the top left hand corner.

That should have sealed the game but whether the Bees subconsciously relaxed, but Hallen found time to respond with just four minutes left.

From a blocked free kick the ball held in the wind as it was played over the Bees defence and Reid with time and space fired home.

They might have snatched an undeserved point in added time but Hadley managed to save sub Nathan Hall's shot with his knees.

Bridport in lights!

Senior pleased with players reaction

by Stuart Broom
stuart@pemedia.co.uk

BEES boss Trevor Senior was pleased the way his side reacted after going two goals down against Hallen on Saturday.

His charges have in general been playing well but have had problems when they have gone behind in games. In a lot of cases they have created opportunities beforehand and then been caught by a sucker punch and not been able to recover.

This has resulted in a number of lost points that has seen them tread water in midtable, and with three tough matches to follow, the former Reading striker was looking for three points to boost their confidence and their league position.

This match appeared to be heading the same way. A defensive mistake and an unfortunate situation caused by the elements saw the visitors score twice in the first 22 minutes from their only two shots on goal,

And whilst the Bees created a number of chances despite playing against the gale force wind and rain in the first half, it appeared it was another day of disappointment.

But clearly the better side, they kept plugging away and got back into it two minutes before the break with a goal from Jamie Beasley.

With the elements in their favour, the second half saw more pressure from Bridport, and whilst it didn't happen immediately they continued to keep calm and were rewarded with the introduction of Matt Condliffe midway through the second half.

Three goals in seven minutes saw them cruising, and although Hallen grabbed a late goal they collected three well deserved points.

Senior said: "We thoroughly deserved the win, and I thought the whole team to a man played their part in a great performance.

"Max Buckler was my man of the match, but Tom Richardson had his best game of the season whilst Matt Condliffe's contribution up front was very good and immediate; his speed getting in behind their back four, a telling factor. Jamie Beasley was in unstoppable form; he certainly is a force to be reckoned with when he is on song. However everyone did well.

"Our first goal came just at the right time and gave us a lift. I told the lads at the break not to panic and they just took them apart in the second half."

Senior has added to his squad by signing two Dorchester Town players on dual registration forms. Sixteen-year-old Adam Diaz, son of Dave Diaz who was released by AFC Portsmouth at the end of last season, came on for the final few minutes. Normally a right back he can also play in midfield.

Senior has also signed Sam Old, a 19-year old central midfielder who is on the cusp of the first team at The Avenue.

They are timely arrivals following an injury to Chris Senior who pulled his abductor muscle on Saturday and will be out for several weeks.

Last night's (Tuesday) Toolstation Premier Division game at Odd Down was postponed.
